Double Felix NEW EDITION FOR 2024

Sally Harris Illustrated by Maria Serrano

Eleven-year-old Felix Twain's life revolves around the number two.

He skips every second step when he takes the stairs, taps door handles twice and positions objects in pairs. The problem has become so bad that Felix is on the verge of being expelled from school because the principal has had enough of trying to run the school around his very specific rules.

Then Charlie Pye arrives and turns his world upside down. She's grown up with very few rules. She eats cereal for lunch, calls a boat home, and has a very loose interpretation of school uniform. The question is, can Felix ever learn to be wrong when he is so obsessed with being right?

A story about a boy with OCD that shines a light on problems caused by OCD and Autism.

This book was an Empathy Lab selection in 2020.

This new edition of our bestselling title, Double Felix, includes a whole new section on how to make your own comic. Put together by the husband and wife team behind Quickdraw Stories, you too can now easily learn how to create your own comic...just like Felix Twain and Charlie Pye!

Quickdraw Stories is all about creating fun drawing and writing exercises to build creative confidence. To find out more about Mark and Zoe and the services they offer, visit www.quickdrawstories.com

The world of Busy Lizzie

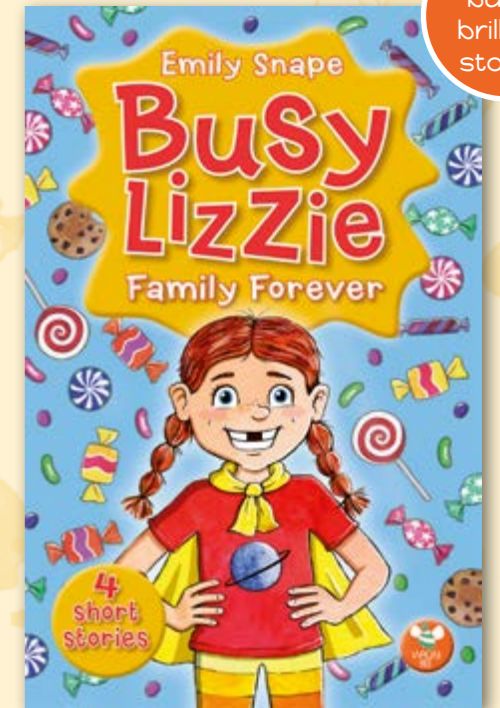

Busy Lizzie: Family Forever

Emily Snape

"Lizzie quietly lifted the creaky, wooden roof of her dolls' house. She was just about to fish out the raisins she'd been looking for when she spotted something scuttling towards her. It was a SPIDER!"

Meet Lizzie. She's daring, cheeky and fun. Lizzie hates the colour pink, getting her hair brushed...and milk. She loves adventures, being as LOUD as she can and, most of all, outwitting her older, twin brothers, Milo and Isaac. She's also TERRIFIED of spiders!

The world of Dougal Daley

Created by Jackie Marchant and illustrated by Loretta Schauer

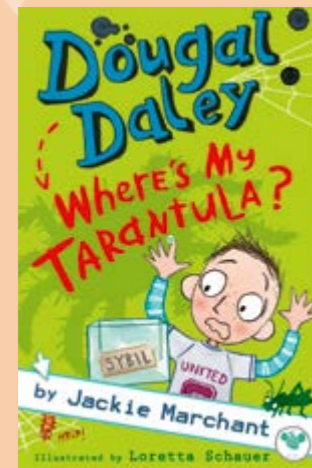

Dougal Daley It's not my fault!

In this first book, football-loving Dougal Daley finds himself at risk from the mysterious creature living in the garden shed. Nobody believes him but as a precaution, he sets about writing his will – rewarding those who help him and disinheriting those who get on his bad side. Meanwhile, as limbs and windows alike are broken by rogue footballs and unhinged canines, Dougal finds himself in all sorts of trouble ... and NONE of it is his fault!

Dougal Daley Where's My Tarantula?

In this second book, football-loving Dougal Daley once again finds himself on the wrong side of almost everyone. Someone has stolen his pet tarantula, Sybil (named after his sister – they both have very hairy legs), and she (the spider, not the sister) is being held to ransom. Dougal must fulfill the kidnapper's demands before poor Sybil is tortured ... one leg at a time!

Dougal Daley I'm Phenomenal

In this third book Dougal finds that making money isn't quite as easy as he thinks. In fact it causes him more trouble than it's worth as he gets caught up in a fast-paced adventure that he finds impossible to control. There's the mysterious Igor Meerkat, poisonous ants and a horned lizard that shoots blood out of her eyes all caught up in the mayhem. But, of course, NONE of it is Dougal's fault!

Book 1 in this STEM friendly series

Being Bee

"I don't think I've found my thing yet. Other than being a girl, of course. It sometimes feels like that's my job in this family, just being the only daughter, the little princess."

Bee, Alice and Cleo met at the after-school club GAS (Girls Achieving at STEM) and are now inseparable. Together they have entered the prestigious Think League Challenge and Bee is determined to win. However, it sometimes feels like an uphill battle. Alice and Cleo don't seem to be taking the competition as seriously as her, and her family are more interested in her role as bridesmaid at her aunt's upcoming wedding. A story of self-discovery, packed full of fun experiments to do at home.

Bjarne Reuter Illustrated by Kirsten Raagaard

Translated by Sian Mackie

"The girl and her dog sit eating salty liquorice on a half-built suspension bridge in the Amazon rainforest."

Elise is lonely. Her mum is far away in Brazil helping to finish the building of a suspension bridge and her dad is busy trying to get by as a musician in the Danish city of Copenhagen where they live. So when Elise asks for a dog to keep her company, her dad finds it hard to refuse. But the dog that Elise ends up with is no ordinary dog. He is second-hand, he looks like an ugly rabbit, he smells of cheese...and he can talk!

"This book is evidence that humour can travel. Including a darkly hilarious set-piece Halloween party and mad characters, it is quirky, clever and original and plotted to make the most of punch lines."

Nicolette Jones, Sunday Times Children's Books Editor

A Girl Called T.O.M: Granny for Sale

Jackie Marchant Illustrated by Loretta Schauer

"It's true. I really did try to sell my grandmother. Before I explain why, let me tell you something about her."

When Tom's granny returns from her latest world travels, Tom is alarmed to hear that not only is she moving in with them, but that Tom is expected to share a bedroom with her. Tom's granny is one of life's eccentrics and where she goes, chaos follows. True to form Granny immediately turns Tom's life upside down, not helped by Tom's super-hero obsessed dad, her quirky, yoga-teaching mum and weirdly obsessive little brother. Desperate to get things back to normal, Tom lists her granny for sale on e-Sellalot, more as a joke than anything else. But it's when bids actually start rolling in in ever-increasing amounts that the trouble really starts!
